January Demo Pamela Summers Juried Art Shows

Pamela Summers is a local artist who describes her home, garden, gallery, and studios as 'nirvana'. She spent one summer in her private studio as she calls it 'a peaceful experience' creating a ceramic tile mural that decorates I-30 in Grand Prairie.

As a sculptor, she has met the challenge of multiple forms of art and learning to market her work in many venues including the Main Street Arts Festival in Fort Worth.

As a very young person she always enjoyed drawing and painting. She has marketed and sold paintings in Ga., Fla., Calif. & Brazil and many more places. Join us for Pamela's discussion regarding entering the best juried shows. You can see her work on Facebook at Pamela Summers Pottery.

Artist of the Month November

The Weatherford Art Association is pleased to announce the winners of Artist of the Month for December and January. Each month, WAA members can compete for first, second and third place ribbons and the opportunity to showcase their artwork at local Weatherford banks and The Doss Heritage and Culture Center.

First place was awarded to artist Sarah Fino for her watercolor “Remembering Kaabong”. Taken from a missionary trip with her daughter to Uganda, this sensitive portrait commemorates the spreading of the gospel of Christianity to the people of Kaabong. This and other artworks by Sarah will be featured at The Doss Heritage and Culture Center throughout December and January.

Second place went to Linda Hidalgo for her watercolor painting, “Bright Ideas”. This meticulously detailed still life has already garnered Linda an Artist of the Year award from the Society of Watercolor Artists in Fort Worth. Weatherford Art Association invites you to view this award-winning painting on display from December through the end of January at First Bank Texas in downtown Weatherford.

Third place honors were awarded to Wendy Ray for her oil painting “Lazy Boy”. This sunlit scene of a resting longhorn, one of Wendy’s favorite subjects, is beautifully backlit and is an iconic image of Texas. You can view her painting from December to the end of January at the Fort Worth Community Credit Union on South Main Street in Weatherford.

Paintings must be set up at each meeting by 6 PM to enter in our monthly contest.

Winners are displayed at local banks. Get your artwork noticed.

One entry per member. Digital compositions using AI Image Generator Software are not allowed.

Jerry's model brought the church $700.00 for their ministries. The winner went to a model train gentlemen who uses to scale buildings in his renditions with the trains. Now we have to find where he shows his trains and villages. Gotta go see it!

Thank you Jerry for your support, skills, and sharing your talents!

Jerry Shidal created an actual rendition of a model of the church Central Christian in Weatherford. This is where we meet for our Wednesday art group, Several of us have participated in the churches silent auction for Thanksgiving each year. Jerry created this as a thank you for letting us hang there, mess up the floors, and fill up the trash cans.

Capernaum Sketchers at Work

Capernaum Sketchers had a wonderful time on November 10th. We hope to do it again in the spring. Thanks Jill Harper for setting this up for all of us.

Christmas Party

If you didn't attend you missed a great party. We had so much fun exchanging gifts, singing carols and just great conversation. See you in January.

Patricia Harder in big conversation!!!

The food was great!

Jerry Buckner, Karen Walku and Linda Hidalgo telling stories!

David Tripp's Tips

Thanks to Jerry Shidal for getting this information to us from David.

Stretching Watercolor Paper on Stretcher Bars At our last WAA meeting David Tripp introduced us to a new way of painting watercolors. He stretches his paper on stretcher bars and after it is dry, his paper will remain tight and wrinkle-free from first paint until finish. Kathy Cunning has been using this technique as well, and on Wednesday, she gave a brief demo of the technique to her art partners. First she soaked her watercolor paper in water for about five minutes. She then removed the paper and laid it on a clean towel.

She then laid the stretcher bars over the paper and began folding up the sides, one at a time, stapling each with a staple gun. She proceeded to staple all four sides and then went back and put more staples. When this dries, the paper gets tight and stays tight throughout the painting process. Once the painting is complete, David said that he cut his painting off the stretcher bars and frames the painting using traditional methods.

Jerry's Funnies

Thanks Jerry Shidal for your funnies each month. They always make us laugh.....

Cold Wax and Abstraction with Irma Ward

Painting with cold wax and oil colors is an easy to apply, forgiving and fast-drying medium that allows you to experiment in developing your abstract work. This is a great course for the experienced painter who wants to explore a new medium, as well as the beginning painter who wants to learn about simplified process and abstraction. In this class you will learn:

- things you need to know about cold wax medium and oils.
- application techniques
- use of color and color mixing
- experimentation ideas.

Irma will demonstrate the additive and reductive ways to alter your painting, and how layering can enhance the tactile nature of your work. Also, you will take away a several paintings that express your unique understanding of this painting process.
