October

Diane Brown is an artist/illustrator living in Aledo, Texas. Diane has always had a driving interest in art in general and drawing and watercolor painting specifically. She attended Bethany College in Lindsborg, Kansas, with an art scholarship and graduated with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Elementary Education and a minor in Art. She has illustrated five children's books and is working currently on several stories of her own. 4RV Publishing published her illustrated books

"I love light, color, and form. My art explores and celebrates these elusive qualities. My favorite media are pencil, pen and ink, and watercolor."

In her October presentation, Brown will discuss her experiences as an illustrator of children's books - from finding illustration work to the process employed to create a children's book from start to finish. While one person's experience will not fully describe the children's book industry, it can help another gain insight into how to enter this field and find success.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH OCTOBER 2024

Marla Grey Sheft, 1st Place
"The Garlic"
Watercolor

Jerry Shidal, 2nd Place
"The Casa"
Sculpture

Barbara Carey, 3rd Place
"The Birds"
Watercolor

The Weatherford Art Association is pleased to announce the winners of Artist of the Month for October. Each month, WAA members can compete for first, second, and third place ribbons and the opportunity to showcase their artwork at local Weatherford banks and The Doss Heritage and Culture Center.

Artist of the Month first place winners are eligible to compete for the Artist of the Year award which is voted on by online proxy every June.

First place was awarded to artist Marla Sheft with her acrylic painting "The Garlic". This painting inspired by Marla's love of garlic, was a fun unique creative departure from her usual animal paintings, she hopes it puts a smile on the viewers face. This and other artworks by Marla will be featured at The Doss Heritage and Culture Center throughout October.

Second place went to Jerry Shidal with his 3D sculpture "The Casa". Jerry became fascinated with modeling a few years ago, when he realized that it was possible to create 3-D models with commonly available household items like cardboard, foam, popsicle sticks, paint, and glue. Jerry had no previous experience with model-making but found how-to videos on the internet that made the process look interesting and easy. Last year one of his models of the Central Christian Church in Weatherford sold for $700 at the Christmas fund-raising auction. In this piece Jerry particularly enjoys the adobe-looking walls and the Spanish tile roof. He hopes it might inspire other model makers to give it a try. Jerry's model was a little too big to display at the First Bank Texas in Weatherford, so he has substituted a 3-D shadowbox of a Spanish Doorway. It will be on display there for the month of October.

Third place honors were awarded to Barbara Carey with her watercolor "The Birds". This piece was inspired by a pair of visiting Painted Buntings in Barbara's backyard. View Barbara's art in October, at the Fort Worth Community Credit Union on South Main Street in Weatherford.

Retiring after three decades in a classroom, David currently enjoys his new life with more time to pursue his passion in his home art studio. His watercolors feature small-town American sights fading from our landscape, but not our memories.

David studied art in rural northeast Missouri while earning his Bachelor's Degree from Truman State University. Residing in Texas since 1977, he draws his watercolor subjects from a host of "recollections" involving cities, small towns and rural stretches throughout the Midwest and Southwest, particularly old Route 66.

Show Us Your Studio

Val
Vierling

Art is something Val put on the back burner during her career as an IT Manager at Verizon. Once she retired, she thought, “Oh boy! I have time to be more creative now!” She also had a secondary study in college in graphic design and started doing the yearbook for Aledo High School Soccer teams since her son is the head coach.

Then she met some ladies in the neighborhood who invited her to join them on Mondays at Cross Timbers Baptist Church in Willow Park. Lugging her oils and canvases was burdensome and she noticed everyone around her was doing watercolor and it was much easier to transport. Now, every time she takes a workshop she has to buy more brushes, more paint, and more gadgets!

Her studio reflects the shopping overload! She started off upstairs in an unfinished area of her attic, but her husband likes it when she paints in the family area. So, she moved what she is working on currently to the enclosed patio room. Once it got too hot for the portable a/c to work well she was back at the kitchen island working on her painting. “There s so much to learn and I get so caught up in the moment that I just forget everything else.” The painting in the window is her favorite picture from her daughter’s wedding. “Faces are hard for me, but I’m stubborn and will NOT give up!”
